Miles of Railway Built.

Chicago Dec. 28.—The Railway Age publishes a table showing that the number of miles of track laid during the year 1882 was 10,851, in 36 states and territories. This is a little more than one mile per day. It will require 10 000 miles more than were constructed last year to equal the record building year up to that time. The number of miles of track laid during the year 1881 was 7,081, and 1880 was 4,735. In 1879 only 2,267 were built. In 1878 the number was 1,712. In 1877 it was 1,979. In 1876 it was 4,711. In 1875 it was 3,217. In 1874 it was 4,107. In 1873 it was 4,097. In 1872 it was 7,379. In 1871 it was 6,070. In 1870 it was 4,249. In 1869 it was 4,615. In 1868 it was 2,979. In 1867 it was 1,938. In 1866 it was 1,265. In 1865 it was 1,463. In 1864 it was 1,829. In 1863 it was 1,631. In 1862 it was 1,654. In 1861 it was 1,731. In 1860 it was 1,883. In 1859 it was 1,779. In 1858 it was 2,593. FRIDAY MORNING DEC 29, 1882

QUITE CONSISTENT

"Not consistent," says the Salem Statesman, "is THE OREGONIAN because it has a g[illegible] to say in opposition to the Hawaiian treaty but still advocates free trade. If free trade is good why is not a little free trade good? Why not accept a little and plead for more. We think we can make this matter plain to the Statesman, and we hope to all other inquiring friends."

Everyone sees that free trade in any absolute or unconditional sense is an impossibility, not only for this country but for any other which requires a revenue. Duties must be laid on, and the question is what principle should be followed in doing so. Some want an extreme protective tariff and call all persons free traders who do not accept this demand. But it is apparent that the judgment of the country is now inclining towards the policy of tariff reduction. The fact is noticeable in the utterances of the press in the report of the tariff commission, and in the proceedings of congress. That material reductions will be made during the present session of congress, with a view to removing the monopoly features of the present tariff may be set down as certain. This policy THE OREGONIAN, in common with nearly all journals of the country, commends. Is this free trade, and is the term free trade, when used (erroneously) to define such policy an odious term?

It is just because entire free trade is impracticable that the Hawaiian treaty is objectionable [illegible] and injurious to our people. [illegible] the reason which the Statesman thinks should move us to support the treaty becomes in fact the main reason why we would insist on its repeal. Sugar pays more duty than any other single article imported into the United States. Hitherto it has been regarded as impossible to give up the revenue obtained from it. Sugar from every other country must pay duty; from the Hawaiian islands it comes in free. The product of the islands is so far controlled by a San Francisco refiner as to create a monopoly in his hands over the entire sugar market of this coast. Controlling so vast an [illegible] of sugar-duty free, he has an advantage which makes his power over the market absolute. Partial free trade makes a monopoly in his hands. Entire free trade would destroy it. If sugar from all countries could come in free there could be no combination with Hawaiian planters and the Pacific railroads to monopolize the market. But, as before explained, we cannot have free trade in sugar with all countries, because the government cannot give up the sugar revenue.

[illegible] under these conditions that this treaty [illegible] $4,000,000 a year out of the treasury of the United States and the pockets of our people [illegible] the vast sum to the coffers [illegible] composed of a San Francisco [illegible] planters and the Pacific [illegible] And the consumer pays as high [illegible] as before. Differing therefore [illegible] Statesman, we must conclude [illegible] the Hawaiian treaty is not [illegible] with modification and re[illegible] as a whole, or the principle [illegible] been recommended by the [illegible] and which congress seems [illegible]

[illegible]AT FACTS.

[illegible] Massachusetts turns out as [illegible] 20,000 bootmakers of [illegible] to think about. There [illegible] people in the United [illegible] [illegible] force, with modern appliances [illegible] equal to any five hundred [illegible] times. The inventions of [illegible] have taken four-fifths of [illegible] civilized nations from men's [illegible] transferred it to arms of iron. In [illegible] a cooper was required for every [illegible]. Now a header with six [illegible] men will cut twenty five [illegible] old days a man with his [illegible] a day an acre and a half of [illegible] man with a little heavier [illegible] acres. Of old, months [illegible] years of apprenticeship, [illegible] the manufacture of a watch, [illegible] machinery which a boy can man[illegible] perfectly all the intricate [illegible] in a day. The same [illegible] almost every branch of [illegible] for this mighty change [illegible] most important results, [illegible] the multiplication [illegible] through the agency of ma[illegible] supply [illegible] and therefore [illegible] demand. BUILDING WOODEN SHIPS

[illegible] of activity is reported in several of [illegible] yards of Maine. At Bath the activity [illegible] The Portland Press shows [illegible] vessels are now under construction [illegible] of which five are of 2000 tons [illegible] In addition to these, twenty two [illegible] have been launched from the yards of [illegible] January 1, 1882, having an aggregate of [illegible] tons. The total tonnage of the [illegible] be about 42 000 tons, against 35 334 [illegible] built at the same place last year. The largest tonnage was built in 1854—about 50 000 tons. From that time there was a rapid decline. Iron ship-building began about that time in Great Britain and the conditions of the industry underwent a very great change. Maine still furnishes much of the hard-wood used in shipbuilding, but by far the larger part of the lumber used is brought from the southern states.

Yesterday, in a notice of Stanley's new operations in Africa and the rivalry of de Brazza with him for the favor of the natives it was said: "The French are revolving the problem of turning the waters of the Atlantic to the desert of Sahara, large part of which lies below the level of the ocean, and making Timbuctoo the capital of a French province. Timbuctoo, not Turkestan.—Timbuctoo the scene of the fierce cannibalism and successful rhyme of Sydney Smith—

If I were a cassowary
On the plains of Timbuctoo
I could eat a missionary
Flesh and bones and hymn book too

The civil service bill the leading features of which were presented in these columns yesterday, has passed the senate. It met with no opposition except from the democratic side. The history of that party does not give much hope that under it there would be anything but a partisan civil service. Its policy is to bestow the offices upon its active politicians—the very thing the republican party condemned in its own managers in the recent elections.

The revolt against republican spoilsmen would be futile in its results if the main consequence were the enthronement of democratic spoilsmen in their stead.

Mexico has abolished her inter state custom houses. The duties levied by home custom houses were nearly the last remnant on this continent of an evil practice inherited from the Roman empire and common in western Asia and most parts of Europe until within the experience of local government is supported by a tax on trade as it passes the boundaries of state, city or town. Then all this is practically as imitates the Mexican local system to one in which direct tax[illegible] supports the local and indirect for the general government.

Six cities of Massachusetts voted at their municipal elections [illegible] Decem[illegible] on the license question. They each and all gave majorities for license, which in the aggregate reached 11115 votes. [illegible] the same state voted on the question the week before, giving majorities for license and five against it. These voting against it were cities of the small class.

A Crank's Queer Actions.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec [illegible] The feminine portion of the community is considerably excited at the singular freak of a man who [illegible] the weaker sex by slashing their clothes with a knife. During the crush incident to the holiday season [illegible] Dressed ladies returned home to find their seal skins cut from top to bottom, silk dresses similarly hacked and up to this time the perpetrator of the outrages is not apprehended. Miss Carrie Kerr and her [illegible] Miss [illegible] Dow [illegible] from the east are the more recent victims. They had been out buying presents and noticed the same man several times and invariably after being jostled. They entered a store on Post street and the same one pushing them and shortly after touching them on the shoulder. On going up stairs they were roughly pushed aside and saw a face rapidly disappear. [illegible] Miss Dow was utterly [illegible] her mother who called attention to the [illegible] of her clothing. Her seal skin was cut in several places and a ribbon similarly treated. While talking the matter over Miss Kerr returned saying the elevator boy in the hotel stared at her rudely, and when looking in the mirror she saw that her seal skin had been cut in two places on the shoulder. The man is described as pale looking with red moustache and wearing gloves.

Important Enterprise Projected.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—It is rumored on change that important railroad enterprises will soon be inaugurated in the northwest. One of the rumors is to the effect that application will be made at the next session of the British Columbia legislature by George J Ainsworth and John C Ainsworth former[ly] of Portland now resident of Oakland, and E. W Bliesdell to incorporate the Columbia and Kootenai Railroad and Transportation Company. A line of steamers will be established from a point on the Kootenai river where the southern boundary of British Columbia intersects the river and through Kootenai lake to the outlet. The railroad will be constructed from the outlet of the lake to the Columbia river, at the head of navigation. A line of steamers will be put on the Columbia, railroad connection made with the Northern Pacific and the Kootenai country opened and made tributary to Portland. It is said that it is the intention of the incorporators to push the work to a speedy conclusion.

Severe Weather Experienced.

Private advices received in this city from the master of the French bark Augustin Edourdo, which left here for Havre some months ago state he had experienced four days of severe weather off the Falkland islands. When 52 days out a heavy sea sprung up the sea rolling so high that the deck was submerged a portion of the time, making it impossible to open the hatches so as to work the pumps, which had choked. An entrance to the hold was finally made through the lazarette. Three hundred tons of wheat had shifted. It was found four feet of water had been made. Falmouth, 110 days out, was reached, where the captain was told by the people that in the recent gale over a hundred vessels, large and small were reported lost or missing.

San Francisco Notes.

The ship Charger recently arrived from New York with an assorted cargo and a large quantity of cartridges caught fire between decks ten days out. As the fire progressed, and every effort was made to reach the cartridges when suddenly the bullets commenced flying in all directions completely riddling the sides of the hold and making it lively for the sailors, who scampered up the hatchways. The vessel was obliged to put back to port for repairs.

In the mandamus brought by the gas company to compel the auditor to audit a claim for $176,646.93 for gas furnished the city the supreme court referred the matter to a referee to determine the respective claims of the gas [illegible]. The auditor refused his signature because the company were indebted in a larger amount for taxes than the claim. The court intimated it would support the auditor's position.

Sampson, charged with assaulting Nettie Fritz was held to answer. It appears the assault took place near Oakland.

Killed by the Cars.

SAN JOSE, Cal Dec 28. This morning Mary Hewett aged 45 and unmarried, was struck and instantly killed by an express train near this place. She was walking on the track and did not heed the alarm of the engineer until it was too late to stop the train to save her life.

NEVADA.

Kept Warm by his Burning House.

WINNEMUCCA, Dec 28.—The dwelling house of M Gonzales, near Golconda was burned last night. It was occupied by Gonzales his wife and child and was four miles from the nearest neighbor. The family were left in the open plain with the mercury at zero all night. They kept themselves from freezing by the heat of the burning dwelling and in the morning walked against biting northern wind to their nearest neighbors.

Weather mild with bright sunshine wind north.

Late.—The American ship Invincible, 1480 tons Strickland Morley consigned to Stahlschmidt & Ward, with 600 tons of rice sailed from Hongkong 77 days ago and is supposed to be lost being 25 days overdue.

BREWSTER AND WOODFORD.

Trouble between these Two Gentlemen of the Law.—The Attorney-General Calls the District Attorney an Impertinent Person.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON, Dec 28.—Attorney General Brewster and Stewart L. Woodford the district attorney of New York, have quarreled. Mr Brewster says Woodford is an impertinent person whose office is not administered with regard to the public service. A lively correspondence has occurred between the two gentlemen. It grew out of a complaint made by the post office department of Woodford's action in the dismissing cases where arrests were made for violations of postal laws. Woodford when taken to task said he had exercised what he believed to be a wise discretion. He gave an illustration of his meaning that was deeply offensive to the attorney general. Woodford said he had received from the attorney general a reply to an invitation to attend the New England society dinner, which was contained in a penalty envelope subjecting the person using it for private purposes to $300 fine.

MR. WOODFORD SAID

That he had no doubt the attorney general was unaware that the use of this envelope was contrary to law and in the exercise of his discretion as prosecuting officer would not think it his duty to take official cognizance of the affair. On Dec 8th the attorney general sent Woodford a letter in which among other censorious things he said:

Let me further add that your allusion to my personal letter in answering your invitation to the next New England dinner is not proper and is inadmissible between us. It might not be admissible as between gentlemen in the matter of personal business but as between the head of that department and one of its subordinates it cannot be permitted. There is no analogy or illustration of any rate. In the case complained of official complaints by authorized agents were preferred and the department [illegible] arrangement asked that the sec[illegible] should be prosecuted.

THE SUPPOSED MISTAKES

Of the parties complained of and a question of fact that you have undertaken to determine when the post office department the [illegible] letter mailed by legal proceedings. The letter I wrote to you was by my clerk very properly supposed to be an official letter because it was addressed to a district attorney and the clerk did not know the contents of the letter. I had forgotten it. Besides I am on trial and there is any complaint made against me. I again suggest that such an allusion was not deferential and proper.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

Fatal Shooting between Gamblers.

LEADVILLE, Dec 28. Yesterday a fatal shooting affray occurred in Hunt & Rest's gambling house. Matt Wells, a gambler had previously had a difficulty with John Kerr a faro dealer which was aggravated by one Fellory, another faro dealer with whom Wells had an old feud and who carried the talk of each to the other. In the morning at 10 o'clock Wells went into Hunt & Rest and called for a drink. Seeing Fellory he threw a glass and its contents in his face. Subsequently Fellory met Wells in the street and knocked him down. Smarting under the infliction and half crazed with liquor Wells procured a revolver and returned to Hunt & Rest and seeing Kerr commenced firing. Kerr returned the fire but shot wild. Both emptied their revolvers and Kerr was mortally wounded. Wells was immediately arrested. Two bystanders Hunt another gambler and Conlon 70 years of age received severe wounds. Kerr died yesterday at 2:30.

Crumbs of Crime.

A Little Rock [illegible] special from Hope reports a [illegible] state of alarm prevailing over reported negro plot of [illegible] the colored [illegible] to burn the town. The streets are patrolled by a sheriff's posse.

The excitement at Uniontown Pa., over the Nutt tragedy and the feeling against Dukes is so intense that it would require but a slight agitation to cause a lawless outbreak. The new developments throwing aspersions against the character of Capt Nutt's daughter in Dukes letter are shameful. Some of these letters will be produced at the trial.

DIED.

OUR ANNUAL REVIEW

The regular annual review of THE OREGONIAN will appear on Monday morning, January 1st, 1883, and contain valuable statistics of its commerce and trade of Portland and the Columbia River, and the resources of all portions of Washington and Oregon, especially prepared for this Special Edition by representatives of the paper. The marvelous growth of Portland will be shown by articles on the year's building improvements, the manufacturing industries, the wholesale trade, etc. A large number of copies will be printed over the northwest will be issued of this Re-completed number will contain more matter concerning the northwest than was ever before collected from one source, as well as the regular local and telegraphic news of the day. Orders for extra copies should be sent in early. We shall print a very large edition, for as the demand will be great, it would be well for all who want copies to notify the office in advance.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Special attention is called to classified advertisements on second page. For a small expenditure advertisers can make known their wants under the proper heading.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Terrible Accident in England.

BRADFORD, Eng., Dec. 28.—A later account of the chimney accident says 36 persons are known to be killed and 40 others injured, mostly women and children. Owing to the amount of debris the exact number killed cannot be learned for two or three days. Total damage is estimated at over 500,000. About three thousand persons are thrown out of employment. Eight mills having flue connection with the fallen chimney are brought to a standstill.

Persecution of Jews.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 28.—Complaints in regard to treatment of the Jews are again appearing in the newspapers. It is stated the railroad companies have ordered the discharge of their Jewish employes. The prefect of St. Petersburg has ordered that no intelligence be shown Jews residing in the capital without special leave. The senate has decided that no court can authorize the transfer of land to Jews.

Railroad in Germany.

COLOGNE, Dec. 28.—It is raining constantly. The Rhine has risen 80 centimetres during the night, flooding the lower part of the town. The quay at Stadtbrug-on-Main, flooded. The Medlar has Frankfort-on-Main, flooded. The Medlar has overflowed its banks. Firemen and soldiers are ready to assist the populace.

War Troubles in Burmah.

RANGOON, Dec. 28.—In consequence of the recent escape of the eldest son of the late King of Burmah from Bengal, and who is supposed to have gone to Upper Burmah to raise a rebellion, 3000 Burmese troops have been dispatched to the Manipur frontier and four from the Shan states to Toungo. The frontier stockades on the Irrawaddy river are carefully watched. War steamers are in readiness to convey troops.

Sentences of Egyptian Rebels.

CAIRO, Dec. 28.—Sentences varying from one year's solitary confinement to twenty year's banishment were pronounced on eighty-four political prisoners, including Arabi and fellow-exiled embark d Wednesday for Syrian. There was no demonstration.

The Russian force concentrated along the Kaw mountain consists of 7000 men and 80 guns.

It is ascertained that 36 operatives were killed and 40 badly injured in the Bradford, England, disaster.

The chamber of deputies almost unanimously adopted the budget of credits for the expedition of Dahomey to Africa.

A man named Leitz was found strangled in a compartment of an express train from Nice to Marseilles, probably for the crime of a robbery.

Gambetta's physicians are alarmed. Four physicians are in consultation about lancing the abscess in order to secure an external discharge of matter.

The ice house rain has caused the Rhine to rise dangerous stations. It is still rising at the rate of three centimetres an hour. A fresh inundation is expected.

Bismarck, in replying to the congratulations of the deputation, hoped Spain would soon win a position among the great nations, which belonged to her once in history.

The Vienna festival in honor of the house of Hapsburg opened with a grand banquet at Augsburg, at which the assembled various deputations then presented their congratulations.

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKS.

Grady Villard, yesterday, got a mortgage for three million dollars on property owned by him in New York.

Hon. Joseph Medill, a congressman elect, of Cogan, Ill., is dead, of brain fever.

Ex-Governor Foster, the reform candidate, served pa-

Hon. Wm. Bingham, of Philadelphia, was sentenced by Judge Pitney, of the district court of New Jersey, to jail for failing to pay the substituted tax of $667,984.

The movement of Chicago saloon keepers against the Sunday closing ordinance, by which means all the sales of beer, is gaining force and will probably be pressed on appeal.

The extensive nickel works of Jos. Wharton, at Camden, N. J., have suspended operations. The cause is inability to compete with foreign manufacturers.

Mrs. Langtry, sister-in-law of the actress, is expected in New York on the Oceanic now due. She will accompany the actress during the remainder of her professional tour.

J. T. Kennedy & Co., dead agents of the Canada Southern railway company in New York, stated the day that to the knowledge of the approved purchase of an interest in the company by Wm. H. Vanderbilt.

Professional trade in New York seems depressed. Many doctors fear there is an overstock of the medical profession, and serious difficulties. Two firms have failed lately. Holiday business has been below the average.

Small accumulations of the elevated railroad of Chicago are making a strong push to secure favorable legislation from the city council on their rights. They propose to make electricity a motive and lighting power.

The land grant bonds of the Canadian Pacific railway were all sold by the bank of Montreal and the exchange closed. The Canadian Pacific railway company still issues stock for $75,000,000 in European and American markets.

Street highway men are becoming bold and their attacks occur so frequently, that there is considerable talk of suppressing them by means of private intervention. Scarcely a night passes that one or more attacks do not occur.

Col. Krumbill, the government Indian agent at Pond Du, after a full investigation, reports the charges against two distillers here, as to be correct. Both have been challenged, are all right. Environment has made a change in dishonesty.

At Chicago the sale of seats for the Langtry season opened at Hooley's theatre Wednesday. There are 31,000 seats for the entire season. 6200 were sold up to 10 o'clock and it is calculated the sales after that make up the total to 8000, leaving 6000 unsold.

The New York Mail says that should the decision of the supreme court in the Southern Pacific case, in which the supreme court, no company will receive greater benefit comparatively than the Mail. The decision is likely to be rendered in about a month.

It is not improbable the massive exposition building at Chicago will be torn down, as the city council refuses on changing the exorbitant rate of $1000 a year. It has been run on a very narrow margin of profit and some years at an actual loss. There is much indignation at the ill addressed greed of the council.

One of Meissonier's minutest masterpieces "La Politainelle" measuring 4x5 inches has been bought by a Parisian collector for 40,000 francs. The picture has been for many years at Vienna. Meissonier is now on a visit to Venice where he is at work on a little picture of one of the chapels of Saint Marks.

Sulphur, Tarrant, Inflammation, all Kidney and Urinary Complaints, cured by "Buchu-Paiba." $1.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Dec. 29.

Wheat is still on the rise, $1 70 is now asking in some quarters, with an advance for those who needs are pressing. Receipts for the day were 15 200 centals.

The freight market is weak.

Portland Produce Market.

Rumors were afloat during the week of an advance of 10 cents per barrel on all standard brands of flour, but investigation shows that but one has made the raise, three other standard makes having made no change in prices. Hops are firmer, but quotations are almost useless, as the entire crop is in the hands of dealers. Potatoes have gone up a trifle and are firmly held. Eggs have dropped again and market is dull.

FLOUR — ext brands, $3 50@3 75; country, $3 10@3 40 per bbl.

BUCKWHEAT — $3 25@3 50 per cental.

BRAN — $17 50@18 00 per ton.

HAY — Baled timothy, $20@25 per ton.

A HAPPY FAMILY.

Relief from the horrors, suffering from the terrible Shingles, which are full of boils, will trouble. Baby has eighth at 3 months old. If one hold pimples, bowels in awful fright. Don't fling, cover him with Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. Then he will sleep. He and wife kiss ops. Without Shingles. What each other's prayers and slept like thunder.

Hear what one member of the profession testifies regarding the scientific preparations of a brother member:

MR. D. WESLEY TAYLOR, of the drug business in the city of Providence twenty-five years, carries a stock and keeps before the people a good standing, and knows what he is talking about, when he says:

MR. D. says: "For many years I have suffered from nervousness, with effect as severe as to break down my health and render me unfit for business. I was confined to my bed and could obtain relief. I could not bear the weight of the bed clothes, so excruciating was the agony I endured. I always noticed that before these attacks came on my kidneys were affected; before I ever would be aware that my functions were travelling of [illegible] Indeed, the color of the water was dark, the kidneys would be very dark and the urine scanty and fevered. The last attack was the severest of all. For years, as I say, I was subject to it. I also suffered from nervousness. I employed four of the best doctors in Providence in turn, but they did not relieve me. During the time I was under their care
